"I have been a Pullman Conductor on the C. P. R. and Michigan Central during the last three years. About four years ago, I was laid up with intense pains in the groin, a very sore back, and suffered most severely when I tried to urinate. I treated with my family physician for two months for gravel in the bladder but did not receive any benefit. About that time, I met another railroad man who had been similarly affected and who had been cured by taking Gin Pills, after having been given up by a prominent physician who treated him for Diabetes. He is now running on the road and is perfectly cured. He strongly advised me to try Gin Pills which I did,—with the result that the pains left me entirely.

CONSERVATIVES CARRY EVERY B. C. SEAT EXCEPTING ONE

Nearly Every Liberal Candidate Lost His Deposit in Late Election

Vancouver, March 28.—Not a single Liberal was elected to-day in the provincial election. Out of a house of 42 McBrice will have at least forty supporters including of course himself.

Most of the defeated Liberals in the country districts lost their deposits.
Two Socialists were elected. Jack Place, in the Socialist stronghold of Nanaimo and Parker Williams, in Newcastle. A late return, however, places Dier in the lead in Newcastle by four votes, so that it is more than likely that only one opposition seat will be occupied by a lone Socialist in the next legislature.

In Vancouver, Ellis was the only Liberal to lose his deposit, while the men on the Liberal ticket with him had very narrow shaves from the same fate. The Conservatives voted the ticket in wonderful shape. Dr. McGuire led the poll and all the other Conservatives were with

THE ACQUISITION OF RICHES

To get rich at all hazards, and to get rich as quickly as possible, seems to be the object to which most men are bending their energies nowadays.
Even the humble man on yonder, who is working in the ditch, has the hope within him hidden that some day he may be rich.
And, forgetting all the seasons that so foolishly were spent, He hopes hoping he may profit by some lucky accident.
If it were not so, many a man who is now able to prey upon the credulity of his fellow-men, would be compelled to seek other employment. The chief post office inspector of the city of New York reports that last year "members of the Suckers' List" lost seventy-seven millions of dollars in investing in the get-rich-quick schemes; and it is safe to say that all the suckers' were not caught on the other side of the line. The man who goes through life "digging a flyer" at this and that, under the impression that he will some day "strike it rich," is in 999 times out of 1,000 only wasting his money and making rapid preparation for an old age of humiliation and penury. The sooner he awakens to the fact that there is no certain short cut to riches, and that the "lucky accident" does not happen to one in one thousand, the better it will be for himself and his family. The only safe plan to adopt, if he hopes to have a competency in his old age, is to live within his income and to systematically lay up something from his earnings, no matter how small the amount may be. If he is living beyond his means he should keep in mind Micawber's statement, which was something like this "Income 20 shillings, expenditure 20 shillings and sixpence, result misery; income 20 shillings and six pence, expenditure 20 shillings, result happiness."
We have no desire to throw cold water on any of the real estate speculations which are being offered to the people of the west at the present time for they have abundant faith in the future of the country, but we greatly fear that many who are purchasing without hope of being able to meet future payments in the event that they do not turn over the property before having to lay out more cash, are bound to be bitten. A sane real estate investment in any of our western cities, would seem to us as a safe treasure vault for the deposit of hard-earned savings, but we urge the young man with his future in sight to avoid wild cat speculations of all kinds. There is no better security on earth than the earth itself, but that portion of the earth which you buy should be located in a position where enhancement of value seems possible.

THE KIND OF MEN Lacombe Attracts
Dr. Geo. Weger, of Delphos, Ohio, accompanied by his wife and family, arrived in Lacombe this week and have taken up their residence on the Metcalf farm, east of town, where the doctor has purchased. Having spent many years in the practice of his profession, Dr. Weger came to the conclusion that he would get back to the land and the simple life, free from midnight calls and tiresome drives, if he could find a suitable location. He took a trip through the Western States and finally landed in Lacombe late last fall. Here he found his troubles at an end; a short drive through this grand district having convinced him that it was the ideal district for the agriculturist. He immediately closed the deal for the Metcalf place.
The doctor will go extensively into farming, and will use up-to-date methods. In his farming outfit is included a 40 h.p. gas tractor, and a string of gang plows. It is his intention to do all farm work by tractor, and will harvest and plow at the one time. The binder will be hitched onto the engine, and behind the binder the plows will follow. Here he found his troubles at an end; a short drive through this grand district having convinced him that it was the ideal district for the agriculturist. Board of Trade Elect Officers

At a joint meeting of the Lacombe Board of Trade and the Lacombe Industrial Bureau, held in the Town hall on Tuesday evening last, it was decided that if the interests of Lacombe were to receive the attention due, both bodies should get together, pool resources and make one big boosting campaign for one town. The idea seemed to be the unanimous opinion of the meeting.
As a preliminary, it was decided that the officers of both organizations resign, the members of the Industrial Bureau join the Board of Trade, and afterwards the election of officers be held. This line of action was carried out.
The election of officers resulted as follows:
President—A. Belcher
Vice-President—E. J. Quirk
Secretary-Treasurer—W. F. Graham.
Council—Len Beatty, John Barnett, C. P. Vickers, R. J. Scott, B. F. Bailey, H. L. Brown, W. T. Tees and A. M. Campbell.

The new officers being installed, those present were asked to present their views on the best possible manner in which to advertise Lacombe and district. The prevailing opinion of every speaker was that the services of a publicity man was necessary, and by a unanimous vote it was decided that a publicity expert be secured at once.
The question of funds for the campaign was also discussed. The board starts out with a hundred dollars, and expects to have no difficulty in securing additional amounts. It was suggested that citizens of the town pledge themselves to pay a dollar a month into the boosting fund, and in this way raise the publicity man's salary and expenses. This scheme was worked to advantage in other towns in the province, and appears to be very feasible.
One thing is certain; Lacombe will get some advertising this year. The Lacombe Board of Trade is now, in point of numbers, the largest board in the province, outside the cities of Calgary and Edmonton, and if their enthusiasm hangs out, much good must result.

LACOMBE MUST SOON BECOME A GREAT COMMERCIAL CENTER

Four Great Railways Headed This Way—And the Reason They Come

Lacombe's geographical position ensures its future from a railway, commercial, manufacturing standpoint. It is situated about midway between Calgary and Edmonton, and is the best business town on the Calgary and Edmonton railway line. It is the western terminus of the Lacombe-Moose Jaw branch, and when the line is extended to the coast it will no doubt be the largest center between Moose Jaw and the coast city. It will be an important point on the C. N. R. Lacombe to Calgary and Strathcona branch, which will be constructed this year; and it will be the headquarters for the Lacombe and Blindman Valley Railway Company, now practically under construction. In addition to this there is no doubt but that the Grand Trunk Pacific will, in the near future, put Lacombe with one of its branch lines, for their engineers are already working in the district. With the magnificent railway facilities which we will shortly enjoy, and the extensive territory of which Lacombe is the centre, this town is destined shortly to become one of the largest and most important distributing centres of Western Canada. Quickly following the wholesaler will be the manufacturer, and so quickly will those changes take place that Lacombe will be a city noted for its railway, commercial and manufacturing importance before even some of the most sanguine citizens have realized it.
It was only but yesterday, that Whittier, speaking of the future of the country expressed himself in the following words: "I hear the tread of pioneers, of nations yet to be."
The first low wash of waves, where soon
Shall roll the human sea."
His prophecy, by many, was treated with derision, but already has been fulfilled. The development of this district within the next few years will come with greater rapidity than ever, and our town is in the right place; it is surrounded by the right territory, it is populated with the right people, to ensure its development to such an extent that it will rank among the greatest centres of our great and fair Dominion.

GULL LAKE IS ATTRACTING PLEASURE LOVING TOURISTS

This Season Will See This Beautiful Spot Transformed Into Fairyland

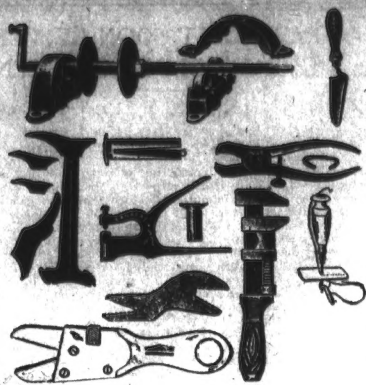

We have, during the past week, received many enquiries from all parts of the Dominion and from several of the States, with references to Lacombe's summer resort—Gull Lake. The seekers for information wish to know just what sort of a place this is. We are pleased to give the desired information, and can do so without any qualms of conscience, because our beautiful lake is not excelled on the continent.
The popular summer resort of Gull Lake is situated only a few miles west of the town. A more attractive place for a few weeks' outing could not be desired. The lake itself is about eighteen miles long and eight miles wide. Its shores are very picturesque, being almost entirely surrounded with spruce and poplar, thus affording the camper an endless variety of shady nooks in which to erect his cabin or pitch his tent. A large number of permanent cottages already dot its shores to say nothing of those who spend their vacation so comfortably and pleasantly in tents or in the hotel erected there for the convenience of tourists. Thousands of people visit the lake during the summer and the numbers are increasing yearly. A small steamer operates on the lake as well as several gasoline launches, sail boats, and a large number of row boats and canoes. There are fish in abundance to furnish a pleasant pastime for the enthusiastic angler. The shore comprises several miles of beautiful sandy beach. The water is clear, and the beach, which is without holes, is so shallow that even small children can wade out several hundred feet. A better and safer place for bathing could not be desired. A very important feature in connection with Gull Lake, and wherein it differs greatly from most similar places, is in the very small expense to which one is put for a pleasant holiday. To begin with, the C. P. R. gives week-end excursions to Lacombe during the holiday season. Supplies can be purchased in the town at a minimum cost, the cost of transportation from town to the lake is but a trifle, and the farmers surrounding are always on hand with a supply of fresh meats, butter and eggs, milk, cream and vegetables of all kinds. These the camper secures at his cabin door and at first cost. Here, with a few dollars, a man and wife and family can spend a most enjoyable outing. Here the cares of business are forgotten, the drudgery of housework is left behind, the conventionalities of society are abandoned and one may swing in a hammock or lie under the shady trees and chant to him self:
There is sweet music here that softer than a flute
From the brown, brown, roses on the grass
Or night dews on still waters, comes,
Of shadowy granite in a glowing landscape
That gentler on the spirit hies
Than trust of eye upon tired eyes,
None the less, a deep sleep
Dawns from the blisful skies.

THE BOSS PHILANTHROPIST

Some time ago I had the heavens, which laid me on a couch of pain; it is a malady that leaves you broken down in mind and brain. And while I tossed upon my bed, old Billkins came, with comfort sweet, he placed a poultice on my fevered head and gently fanned my fevered brow. He glided by, helped the weary frau, and from her heart the sadness drove; he fed the horse and milked the cow, and whacked up cordwood for the stove. For several weeks, he gave me a fountain to the town and built a home for busted bums. He is the boss philanthropist, whom all the papers advertise; he surely will be sorely missed when he kicks up his heels and dies. But when I had the heavens and lay with plaster casts upon my ears, he never came to any good day, although he's known me fifty years. To see a neighbor in distress, and help him with a song and dance won't win the plaudits of the press or make your cherished fame advance.

IOWALTA.

The children of the Sunday School are practicing now for a program for Easter Sunday. In previous years we have always had programs for Easter, and it looks as though this year would be no exception to the rule.
The dances at the home of Mr. Thomas, the evening of the 25th was a very successful affair. All seemed to enjoy themselves.
Mr. Ingraham, who has been very ill, is getting around a bit again.
A good supply of wood has been placed in the school yard during the past week.

BENTLEY SOCIAL CLUB

The Club spent a very profitable and instructive time together last Monday evening. The topic was "Universal Arbitration and Free Trade" ably introduced by C. F. Dameron.

The speaker stated at the very commencement that he himself was a free trader, and to support this stand Mr. Dameron compared the U. S.—a protectionist country—with that of Great Britain, in which he set forth the advantages of a free trading country.

The speaker also stated that protection raised the price of goods in any country, and was detrimental to the working masses.

A very instructive discussion followed in which Mr. Morrison and C. A. Potholm took part.

The Club will meet again on Monday, April 15th, which will be the last meeting of the season. The topic will be "The Ideal and its Realization," introduced by Rev. H. R. Hadson.

The most unique social of the year will be an "Easter Bonnet Social" on Monday evening, April 8th. Don't miss this. A new bonnet for every lady in town. Come everybody.

A special Easter service will be held in the Methodist church next Sunday evening.

Palmer & McPherson now have some choice Edmonton property on their lists. You may have a trip to Edmonton by seeing them.

Miss Edna Hutchinson is spending a few days visiting Mrs. J. B. McPherson at the Camp.

A few vacant lots at a big snap. Very easy terms.

Mr. and Mrs. S. Sambrook were serenaded on Saturday night by their friends. A merry crowd participating in the event. A good time is reported.

Piano Contest

As will be seen from the standing of the various candidates, the piano is anybody's to date. Get a hustle on. Now is your opportunity.

Come to the new drug store and see the new Kama-Morris player-piano and the prize piano in the contest.

The following is the standing on April 1st, 1912:

Bailey Closing Out!

160 acres, 2 miles south of Lacombe, 80 acres in timothy, all fenced and 2 miles of cross fence, good frame house, "new" deep well of soft water, barn for 7 head, horses and fine cow racks and sizer, conveniently arranged for holding horses. This land is as good as any in Alberta, soil two feet deep; it has taken first prize for best field of wheat, and the wheat went 53 bushels per acre. I have 800 acres adjoining this land rented for the year 1913. This is a grand opportunity for anyone wanting to go into the horse business. Spring water that never freezes or goes dry. See me for terms and price.

NO. 2. 640 acres raw land, 400 acres can be broken without brushing the very best of soil, running water, 8 miles from a good town. This section is the key to one of the best horse or cattle ranges in Central Alberta. $15.00 per acre, good terms.

NO. 3. 316 acres in Calkins Valley, 140 acres broken, and under cultivation and rented or can give possession. This land is almost level, sloping a little to the south. All can be broken out but 20 acres. No brush or hard water in house. 2 sets of build- ings, and all fenced. $5,500.00, good terms.

I Bailey? Every one of these propositions are snaps. I am going to sell the bunch before I leave for California in August.

P. S. I am not closing out and leaving Lacombe to stay. I will be back for the Lacombe district is the best on earth. I am only going for a year or so. I wish to retire for a short time and try to regain my health. The opportunities are so great here that it's no use trying to rest.

Re. David P. Hill Estate. Sealed tenders will be received by the undersigned for the purchase of S. E. 1/4 16-38-24 W. 4th M. Alberta, containing 160 acres more or less, until Saturday, the 27th day of April, 1912.

The aforesaid lands are fenced all around with a good wire fence, 15 acres of which are broken, and against the title to which there are no encumbrances, except the taxes for the present year, 1912, which purchaser will be expected to pay.

TERMS—A market cheque for 10 per cent of price must accompany tender, which will be returned, in case tender be not accepted, and balance of purchase price to be paid in 60 days.

The highest or any tender not necessarily accepted. Dated at Lacombe, this 3rd day of April, 1912.

often sold to people on the strength of alluring tales and picturesque advertisements, but very often there are drawbacks which far outweigh the advantages. The wise investor should always make a personal visit before buying, and at the most unfavorable time of the year. The good seasons and the qualities of the land and climate speak for themselves, it is not the good features of the elements that require compelling by the new settler, and it is the expenses and hardships in connection with the adventures that taxes to the limit the ingenuity of the new comer.

The land sharks who deal in land at a distance know how to play the game; they always make up their mind to take place at the most opportune time of the year. Every body knows that the winter climate of the south is ideal, and it is in the winter that the intending settler is taken to see the advantages of this chosen climate. He sees the advantages, yes, indeed, but does he see or is he informed as to the disadvantages? No, the real estate vendor knows that these will speak for themselves, but he so arranges the transaction that it is finished before the buyer gets wise. In connection with intending emigrants to Alberta, we have people here who have seen the country at its worst, and there is very seldom a dissatisfied one who claims that he was led here by misrepresentation. Many come here and find that there are advantages that have not been outlined to them. There are many countries more favorable to exist in, and it requires people with initiative and ability to make success here, but to any other kind Alberta holds out no inducements.

THE CLIVE REPORTER

Published Under the Auspices of the Clive Board of Trade

The News of the Village

A number of farmers around Clive were busy on their land last week discing and dragging.

Eight cars of grain were shipped out last week from here. Alberta Pacific Elevator 1, Cassella 2, Breton & Wilson 2, Peterson 1, A. A. Smith 1.

Mrs. Lore, daughter of Mr. W. G. Forcht, came up from Calgary on Saturday. On her return she is taking her children back with her.

For gent's furnishings and boots and shoes call at the Pioneer Store, 10 per cent. discount for cash.

Mr. McGill's sale on Saturday was well attended, and almost everything offered for sale went reasonably high. Considering the quality of the registered stock, however, not too large a price was paid for them.

Mr. B. F. Allison has purchased the building containing the post office and telephone office and taken both of these businesses over from Mr. Harry Ross. The uncertainty of the last few weeks has now passed away and we presume that Mr. Allison will be our post master for the future. Mr. Allison intends very soon to move his family into Clive.

We are pleased to see Mr. J. S. Wilson, of Ponoka with us a little. He is visiting his brother, of the firm of Breton & Wilson. Mr. James Wilson was a resident of Clive two years ago, having charge of the creamery in that season.

Roy Reynolds has been to Vancouver and returned on Friday last. Lee Smith and Duffy were also absent, and did not return until late in this week.

Mr. Richardson has been in town again with his well boring outfit. Emory Johnson secured a good flow of water at a depth of 30 feet. Mr. Richardson is now sinking a well for J. T. Reynolds.

Messrs. Smith & Meadows made several sales of buggies the past week. Louis Scorch, Minto Baker and Perry were the purchasers.

The threshing season has again opened. Mr. Morter was engaged last week threshing for Fred Sissons, Lincoln Morical and B. F. Allison.

Linoleum, linoleum, linoleum. Call and see our patterns before purchasing. Our cash prices cannot be excelled anywhere. The Pioneer Store.

The population of Clive has about doubled during the past year. If we could keep up the same percentage of increase yearly for thirteen more years, by that time we would be as large as Philadelphia. Yes, really. Get out your pencil and paper and try it. Start now at 125.

Mr. A. P. Rainforth, of Pleasant Valley, is just now erecting a commodious barn on his premises. It gives splendid accommodation for both stock and fodder.

VILLAGE COUNCIL

The village council met on Saturday morning last. All the councillors were present. The matter of fire protection was again up for discussion. It was agreed that the secretary correspond with the Underwriters Insurance Association of Winnipeg and learn what protection provided by the village would secure a decrease in insurance rates.

The C. P. R. agreement was presented as ready for signatures, but it was held over till a better understanding of water rights granted could be obtained.

The matter of assessment was taken up. The new law passed by the legislature recently was on hand and its interpretation and scope was discussed. There was no doubt about the tenor of it. The single tax rates on land are now compulsory and all improvements are exempted. It was agreed that although this was a good measure for Alberta generally, it was a poor one for Clive, being unsuited to local conditions.

The power of the village to tax property other than what may be considered an improvement on land was considered, but no definite conclusion could be reached. Inquiry is to be made of the deputy minister as to the villages power in this regard.

The poll tax will be levied where it can be applied.

Mr. A. A. Smith has been appointed assessor for the year.

THE MAIL ORDER BUSINESS

Only one thing can justify the patrons of our stores in sending their cash orders to Winnipeg or Toronto mail order houses. That is when the articles desired cannot be obtained in their vicinity. In all other instances the argument against such practices is so conclusive as to throw the case out of court.

It is the local merchant's business to look after your wants and provide, so far as the capital at his disposal will allow, for all contingencies you need. He is here to suit you. He studies to do it. It is in his own interest as well as yours to do so. His margin of profit is not large, especially when all circumstances are taken into consideration. The ordinary business man, starting in this country has his own hard pull and his own worries over it. He must carry some men over hard times, sometimes for many months, sometimes, alas, for a year or more. The main thing with him is how to gather in enough cash to pay the wholesaler within the allotted thirty days.

Now take that cash you intended to send away; after studying the mail order catalogue. Take it direct to your local merchant. Tell him what you have done. He will guarantee—and we have interviewed the Clive merchants on this point—that considering the quality of the goods, he will do as well for you as the mail order houses can, at least along all staple lines. In some lines he may be under, and in some others slightly above, but on the whole you will be satisfied.

If the local merchant knew that like the mail order houses, they received the cash with the order (you are compelled to send your cash to Winnipeg a week or two ahead) they could conform to their prices as well. One large firm in Winnipeg has an army of 2,000 clerks, as well as mail order hands. There is heavy insurance and other expenses incidental to its position in a large city. All the local men need is a cash basis and they will do as well.

Here you can examine your goods before hand, if articles to wear, try them on, and easily return them if not satisfactory. The merchant will do his best to consult your wishes, far more so than an unknown mail order clerk in the east. Once he has learned your preferences he can provide for them ahead.

If the local merchant had the cash that you and your neighbors sent away, how he could replenish his stock easily, buy to advantage and make your trading centre a place where your every want would be attended to. If he has already been carrying your account for months and you have sent your cash east you doubly wrong the merchant. You have tied up his good money where with he bought the goods for you, and you have denied him the money that would have helped him renew his stock. That is the wrong way to build up your town. You are standing in the way of your own interest. Give the business man a chance, a reasonable one. When you have ready money to invest in goods give him the first opportunity. Tell him you are doing that and he will meet you.

Never mind what eastern prices were ten years ago, when you left there. Living all over has gone up almost 50 per cent. in that time, and commodities have followed. If you returned back home, you would be surprised to find that prices have advanced wonderfully since you traded there.

Our last word to those who have learned the mail order habit is "Don't."

MERGERS OR COMBINES

It was intimated the other day that another merger was in process of formation. The great competitor in the West of the International Harvester Company—the Massey-Harris Company—was said to be considering the advisability of joining the merger. It may not be true. It may never be true. But it is always possible.

Why do we witness these great combinations of capital? The capitalists say that by combining resources they can cheapen production. Possibly. Probably they can. But the public have a rather shrewd opinion, borne of past experience, that they will receive no benefit from that cheapening. They will consider themselves more than usually fortunate if there is not a distinct raise in the price of the product.

Of course the manufacturers will say "It all comes from the extra production of gold in these latter years." It sends the price of everything up. The consumer of today has taken to study political economy for him self. He is getting well versed in it. Some of their delegates gave excellent pointers to the Ottawa authorities the other day. Statements like that can't pass over their face value any more.

The public know that prices today depend largely upon competition. When competition is killed prices soar. The limit is what the public will stand. The public has already decided that there must be competition or regulation or public ownership. The public is satisfied to try these remedies in the order named as saving the least of what is called "political government."

But they know they have in reserve at the least, a clincher—public ownership of all production. These large corporations sell their products in the markets that are open to the world, much lower than the price in the home protected market. Steel rails, that can be manufactured for at least $11 to $14 a ton, are sold for $25 a ton in the United States; but at a much smaller price in England.

The western Canadian miller buys his wheat cheaper than his Minneapolis competitor, but sells his flour at a dearer rate in Canada than the Minneapolis miller can command in the United States. But, when he sends to England his product, he can take considerably smaller price though he must stand the cost of transportation. Competition makes him do it. You may depend on it, he does not export flour to Great Britain for any other reason than it pays him to do it.

Public education is proceeding at a fast pace these days, and we may safely predict that the next generation will not have to endure any of the economic disadvantages of the present.

AN APPEAL

Two plans have been before our Board of Trade within the last six months to secure newspaper publicity within the territory contiguous to Clive. One was a local newspaper at Clive. This idea was entertained for a short time but no particular enthusiasm was exhibited as the plan was deemed premature. Nothing less than five hundred subscribers can make a paying proposition out of a local paper.

The second plan—the one adopted—was to secure this page in the Western Globe. This possessed several advantages:

buy property for a price that there is no reasonable expectation of it reaching in time, to remunerate him. Cool judgment and not plunging in the great essential. If one is determined to speculate.

Aspiring villages, whose population has been nearing the 400 mark, have received a rude setback to their ambitions. Hereafter villages must attain 700 population before they are eligible to reach the rank of towns with a mayor as chief officer. The only way to surmount this obstacle is the way Wetaskiwin became a city—a special act of the Legislature.

Bernier, the intrepid Canadian Captain in back again with good news. He has found an excellent quality of coal in Parry and the adjacent islands. It can be shovelled up on the surface. These islands may, in years to come, be among the most valuable assets to Canada. Copper, iron and gold have also been discovered there. He has watched the flight of land birds and game fowl. He gathers that there is an undisturbed land off to the northwest for the birds fly in that direction in the spring and return in the autumn. If Canada supports him he will claim that territory also as part of the Dominion.

Raised mounds of earth surmounted by a Canadian flag, mark all the lands and islands where Bernier has landed. This means valuable assets to Canada, henceforth claim them. Good harbors and deep waters in the bays is the rule. This makes them easy of access when the ice floes move away. The "Arctic" built on the same principle as Amundsen's ship the "Fram" was found to be unbreakable amid the ice fields.

Scarcely an ill fated expedition that has ventured into those northern waters in the last half century but what Bernier has brought home proofs of finding some marks of them. He was in Erebus Bay where Sir Jno. Franklin made his last stand, and saw the graves of those who had succumbed. In the same bay was seen still the ruins of the yacht "Mary" of Sir John Ross's expedition. Provisions of Capt. Perry and records of MacIure were also picked up. These relics will be placed in the Canadian Museum, at Ottawa.

Some one, by his labor, industry and progressive spirit, has made land in and adjacent to these centres more valuable. That man ought to get the increased values. Capital is not entitled to it. If the individual cannot get his proper share of the values created by him, then the country as a whole should obtain and hold it for all the individuals, collectively.

The real estate boom, which brought disastrous results to Winnipeg thirty years ago, was for a long time a standing object lesson to the west—to bring the west is growing back to its normal state. When real estate becomes inflated above a price that it will likely be worth in a practical way for years to come, the last holder must bear the brunt. It is so easy in the storehouse where values are advanced, whether artificially or from natural causes, for the ordinary investor to lose his balance and lowed, the celebration of independence for the slaves of sin, of consecration for the members of the best Dominion, the world knows the Empire Day of the Empire of Love, and yet, because of the unworthiness of the beneficiaries and the sole worthiness of the Benefactor, it is a day of penitence, and humble thanksgiving.

As a new day dawns on the world, and especially on this new country, let our morning resolve be:

At thy feet, O, Christ we lay: Thine own gift of this new day; Doubt of what it holds in store Makes us crave Thine aid the more;

Let it prove a time of loss, Mark it, Saviour, with Thy Cross.

ST. ANDREW'S
The sacrament of the Lord's Supper will be dispensed with at the Presbyterian church at the evening service. There will be special music, suitable for Easter.

HOSPITAL BALL

At a meeting of the directors of the Lacombe Hospital, it was decided to hold a ball on Thursday, April 11, in the Comet Theatre. Lynch's Orchestra will provide the music. Tickets will be $2.00 per couple, and the ladies of the Hospital Aid will be asked to sell the same. As the hospital is badly in need of funds, it is hoped that the citizens will respond liberally and all purchase tickets whether they attend or not. The reception committee will be the ladies of the Hospital Aid, and the directors and their wives will look after the refreshments.

INDUSTRIAL ACADEMY NOTES

Mrs. Sarah Grant, of Wataskiwin, visited her niece, Ruby Schram, last week.

Messrs. Grieb and Meyer, of Stettler, were visitors the last of the week.

Mr. William Wagner and wife, of Castor, spent several days last week visiting friends at the Academy.

Word has been received that Gottlieb Schaber, who left school several weeks ago for his home at Reisker, recently had a leg broken by a runaway team.

The Academy Board held a meeting the last of the week to make further plans for the summer and coming school year.

Riley Ausman, one of our old students from Edmonton, has joined the point gang at the Academy.

Wallace and Maggie Pangman were called to Edmonton last week to attend the funeral of a cousin. They returned Friday.

Miss Gertrude McCulloch is spending her afternoons assisting with the work at the Alberta Tract Society Office in town.

Mr. James Symp, of two a brother-in-law to Mr. W. T. Manfull is visiting his relatives in this vicinity.

Mr. L. Blade, of Lethbridge, was a visitor at the Academy Monday evening. He came with Elder Block and family.

Last Sabbath evening being set apart in honor of the mission of India, suitable program was given by the Academy Sabbath School.

At the close of the program, which consisted of the study of the week's lesson, and stirring recitations on the needs of India, an offering of $50.25 was taken. Officers were also elected for the new quarter as follows: Superintendent, George Brown, Assistant, Roscoe Hippach, Secretary, Ida Hansen, assistant, Susie Wagner, Organist, Nellie Logan, Chorister, John Haynal.

Monday evening a farewell gathering was held in honor of Elder Henry Block and family, who left yesterday for Oregon, in which state they will make their home in the future. A program was given, consisting of select music, recitations and speeches. The program was rendered by the members of the music department under the direction of Professor and Mrs. Adams.

A special meeting of the Missionary Volunteers was held on Friday evening to consider the temperance work. Suitable music and recitations had been prepared, and Professor Beardsley gave an interesting Bible study, showing clearly the effects of the King and the provincial treasurer against the Royal Bank of Canada, the Alberta and Great Waterways Railway Company and Canada.

LAVESTA
The school is rapidly approaching completion, and the grousing becomes feeble.

Mrs. Macdonald, who is in the Lacombe hospital is making progress towards health again.

Ever Masing returned from Ponoka.

Considerable traffic along the roads emphasizes our need to use every effort in road improvement this year.

We understand that Mr. A. K. Erickson has bought the Charles Fluck homestead.

Ed. Capping is moving his family to the Lamb place, where he has rented.

NO DECISION REACHED IN WATERWAYS CASE
No decision has yet been reached by the Supreme court on the appeal of the defendants in the case of the King and the provincial treasurer against the Royal Bank of Canada, the Alberta and Great Waterways Railway Company and Canada.

West Construction company, from the judgment of Justice Stansfeld, finding that the Provincial government had a legal right to cancel the contract to build a railroad to Fort McMurray and also to the possession of the $50,000,000 deposited in the bank.

The case is not only an important one but covers a wide range of legal questions, rendering it highly improbable that the court will be able to formulate a decision or several. Nothing definite is, of course known, as to the time it will be announced. The decision is not expected by those who have followed the case closely before next Saturday.

Meantime the Supreme Court has another important appeal case under consideration, that of J. J. Denman against the Clover Bar Coal Company, involving the question of a contract under the terms of which the plaintiff claims he was to have had the sole agency of the company. The appeal of the defendant corporation was recently urged in the higher court. That the court is giving much of its attention to these two cases is evident from the fact that all other matters set for hearing the coming week have been continued until Tuesday, April 9.

A number of farmers started farming operations last week.

Mr. Jos. Marshall drove to Lacombe on Monday.

Councillor's meeting to be held at Forbes on the 20th.

Mrs. Wm. Adams has been very sick, but is improving.

The little child of Mr. and Mrs. Hunting is reported very sick with scarlet fever.

The lecture and limelight pictures given at the English Church by Rev. Patstone last Thursday was very instructive and interesting and drew a filled house.

Mr. and Mrs. S. D. Reed returned home last week from Lacombe where Mr. Reed has been confined with a very bad spell of sickness for the past two months, but is very much improved now.

Mr. and Mrs. Chas. Bowker drove to Lacombe Saturday, returning Sunday.

Word came over the phone of the birth of a little son last Thursday to Mr. and Mrs. Bert Thorp, who are stopping at Wataskiwin for the present, also that their other boy, Wilfred, is quite sick with pneumonia.

Mr. N. White returned last Saturday from his trip to England. Mrs. White and little daughter are still in England.

Mr. Bill Gurnell has decided to farm this year instead of joining the police force as was his intention, and as he held a sale last fall, and sold off everything which he possessed, he is now in quest of farm machinery, household goods and everything necessary to equip a first-class farm, wife included.

At the last meeting of the U. F. A. an order was completed for a car load of woven wire and at the next meeting they expect to complete an order for a car load of barbed wire. Get your order in.

WOMAN SUFFRAGE

There is a growing feeling throughout Canada that there is no justice in the system by which men monopolize the franchise. It is being recognized that the wisdom of the nation is not divided on the lines of sex. The only good reason men can advance in favor of their franchise monopoly is the old and worn out maxim of "let well enough alone." Women do their full share and a little more, in the work of civilization and deserve equal rights with men in deciding how and by whom they shall be governed. Not all women are capable of exercising the franchise intelligently, but no person will be held enough to declare that men all vote intelligently. In New Zealand and Australia the women already have the franchise on equal terms with men. The result has been a decided improvement in the moral tone of public life of those democracies. There are many great problems which women are more capable of solving than men. Particularly in the work of social problems, with mothers, sisters and daughters exercising the franchise the tendency to legislate for property will give way to a recognition of the rights of humanity. It is very gratifying that each of the Western Farmers' Associations has declared for woman suffrage. It is coming. Our women need not enter into a campaign of destruction to secure their rights. Let it be a campaign of education and they will have the support of the organized farmers. The franchise is a right, not a privilege.

UNITED STATES IMMIGRATION

Recent press reports indicate that some of the United States authorities are very much exercised over the flow of farmers and others from there into western Canada. Advice goes so far as to state that the government of the Republic is urged to take steps to stop the wholesale emigration from there to the fertile lands north of the border. Speaker Clark, of the United States House of Representatives, dealing with the matter the other day, said that one-day in this country recently three families loaded up an entire train with settlers' effects, chartered the train and pulled out for Alberta. There was not a man amongst them who was not well-to-do. He said that a man from his district sold his farm for $40,000, moved to Manitoba, and purchased ten thousand acres of land. The story goes that he gave one thousand acres to each of his eight children, keeping two thousand acres for himself.

Statesmen like Champ Clark, and others, might be reminded that while we are getting many settlers from the States who were born there, and their fathers before them, a great many of the immigrants to Canada are either Canadian-born, or descendants of Canadian-born. It is for that a fair play, and if we are getting many thousands of United States farmers in Western Canada, there was a day when the tide went the other way, and the Dominion is only reversing back her own. We have not seen any recent statistics on the matter, but a few years ago it was estimated that there were about two million Canadians and Canadian children in the Republic. Take a broad view of the situation, Mr. Clark!

Comet Theatre, April 5th. A NATURAL ARTIST. A GIFTED SPEAKER.

It is often remarked by those who did not attend the cartoon entertainment: "If I had known of what the program was to consist, I would surely have gone." Therefore I feel constrained to say a few words concerning some of the features of this particular cartoon entertainment.

First-The program is strictly original, from the "Glad to meet you" to the final "Good night-I thank you."

The first number is entitled "Surprise," and is supplied by the audience when they see before them such a "solemn-looking critter"-for this funny business is a serious matter.

Then the "critter" gets busy. He announces his text, Macbeth 1st chapter 5th. verse: "Your face, my Thane, is a book, in which man may read strange matters."

NEARLY A MILLION DOLLARS FOR LACOMBE ELECTRIC LINE

E. K. Strathy and Eastern Capitalists Look Over Proposition This Week.

E. K. Strathy, who is promoting the Lacombe and Blindman Valley Electric Railway, was in town a few days last week closing up a few matters in connection with the project. He was accompanied by Allan B. Taylor, a broker from Toronto. Mr. Taylor looked thoroughly into Lacombe's municipal electric light and power plant, which the railway company has signified the desire to purchase. The whole proposition looked good to him, and if a suitable agreement can be arrived at between the town and the railway company it is probable that the plant may be turned over to them. They consider Lacombe's lighting and power plant a splendid proposition, and if they procured it would add greatly to its capacity.

Interviewing Mr. Strathy on the prospects for the early construction of the electric line, that gentleman assured us that everything looked good to him. A party of English gentlemen, members of the company, that proposes constructing the line, are expected out from England in a week or two. They will look over the route, and if satisfactorily impressed with the prospects of the road being a money maker, immediate construction will be commenced.

THE WORKER'S SHARE

The strike of the textile workers at Lawrence, Massachusetts, has exposed humiliating conditions so plainly to national view as to call for speedy remedy. For years and years the people of the United States have been taxing themselves by such customs duties on woolen and cotton goods as were practically prohibitive. They have taxed themselves so highly on good woollens that these have become a luxury which few can afford, and the ordinary people must wear shoddies that look poor and have no wear. All this has been done on the plea of increasing the manufacturing industries and providing such wages as would make the lot of the worker altogether different from that of the "pauper labor" of Europe. In this industry, whose duties are so high that a republican president has called them iniquitous, a strike has taken place that reveals the most grinding poverty. A protective duty of over fifty per cent. has, to all appearance, not raised the wage rate beyond, if indeed it has kept it up to, a rate that will give to the worker who has to pay for his living in a highly taxed country an equivalent in buying value to the rate paid similar operatives in England. Will the worker never learn that the duty is not for him, but for the employer? For while the duty taxes those things that he buys, his employer hires him in an open market, and will, or can pay no more for his services than a competing manufacturer in the same line of business is willing to pay.

So poor are the circumstances of the operatives at Lawrence that they resented to the expedient of sending their children away. Union organizations in New York city and Philadelphia both came to the rescue, and offered to receive and take care of children entrusted to their care. After the strike had been in operation for a few weeks many children were sent, small consignments leaving by train almost daily. Then suddenly, without pretext the town authorities stepped in and arrested a group of children as they were embarking. Those they detained and have had to keep and feed, though they are anxious to hand them back to their keep. Such high-handed acts are uncommon, though it must be allowed that they sometimes occur. It was an evident denial of a most fundamental liberty. Another such act occurred some time ago in Philadelphia, when the police and state militia interfered to prevent a meeting in a baseball park of striking trainmen. From all accounts another such action is now in progress in Vancouver, where men charged with exercising the well-established right of free speech have been driven from pillar to post, till they have had to arrange to hold their meeting to take place on the water's edge, where the addresses could be delivered from boats. The denial of free speech is a dangerous proceeding, even though it be done on the pretext of keeping the streets and public squares free from crowds. If cities are going to deny it is use

Bentley Boy Scouts Told How to Cook

The following is a lecture on cooking by Mrs. Major McPherson, delivered by Mrs. Morrison at the Bentley Boy Scout headquarters on Thursday evening, March 21, which will certainly be of practical value to all scouts.

"We thank you for the favor of an invitation to speak to you on cooking, and we are presuming that it is out or camp cooking that you want some points upon."

Well first we will make the coffee. I would suggest that before your camping tour you have a number of small sacks, made of cheese cloth, each to hold about half a cup of ground coffee. Fill these and tie securely. When the water is boiling, be sure not to have it scorch, drop in one or two of these small sacks. Two should make a gallon of good coffee. You should take a can of condensed milk because there may not be any cows feeding near the camp. Carry also sugar and spoons.

Your bread should be well wrapped in good wrapping paper, of which you should take plenty. If convenient take along a small board about ten or twelve inches on which to cut your bread, meat, cheese or anything of that sort. After a meal, any cut bread left, pack the slices neatly together on the cut end of the loaf; then wrap closely in the paper and tie so that it may be kept moist and fresh.

To carry butter and keep it in good condition, take two tin pails with covers, one to set closely inside the other; pack the butter in the smallest one; wrap a cloth, wrung out of cold water, around it, and place inside the larger one. If wrapped in this manner the butter will keep fresh and firm even if the air is quite warm.

To boil eggs—Drop in boiling water and cook five minutes. If you want them hard boiled, boil eight minutes. To scramble eggs; put a piece of butter, about the size of an egg, in your frying pan, let it heat slowly, break your eggs in a dish, salt and pepper them, then turn into melted butter and stir slowly until cooked. This will take about three minutes, if you have a good fire.

To cook meat and fish—First, catch your fish, clean, take out backbone and ribs, put in a kettle (an iron kettle is best), a half cup or more of lard, and get this boiling hot, drop your fish into the hot lard and stir so that it will not stick to the kettle. Keep stirring until it is all broken up, then draw fire away or set coals so that it will continue to cook slowly, salt and pepper and when thoroughly cooked you will have a very fine fish chowder. A pot roast of rabbit, squirrel or lean meat of any kind can be made in this way, but with less stirring until it is nearly done, and putting some water in the kettle at the start, which is slowly boiled away.

For rabbits or game birds, clean the meat thoroughly, washing it is two or more waters. These may be cooked in a frying pan, first with a little water, then lard or butter added as the water boils away. If you want a fine gravy for your bread or potatoes, stir one or two tablespoonfuls of flour in a little water, add to the meat in pan or kettle and eat for five minutes before taking it up.

To boil meat—Cut your meat into pieces about as large as a medium sized potato, put in kettle, cover with water, salt well and cook for one and a half hours. Add to this any vegetables you may have and cook until done, and you will have a boiled dinner.

For a beef stew—Cut your beef into small pieces, put into kettle, cover with water, salt and pepper, add a few sliced onions and potatoes, and when nearly done add the flour to make your gravy.

When you set you also prepare a place for your fire. Dig a hole in the ground ten or twelve inches deep and in this build your fire. After the hole is thoroughly hot you can bake potatoes in the fire, by placing them in the bottom of the hole and covering them with ashes from the side of the hole. You can make your fire over them for other cooking.

Take a can of salmon, put in your frying pan a good piece of butter and let it get hot, add to this a cup of hot water, in which four table-spoonfuls of condensed milk has been dissolved, and bring to a boil, add a table-spoonful of flour to your salmon and then all together in your frying pan. When all is hot pour it over some slices of dry bread, adding to each slice pepper, salt, and a little butter. Hungry boys will enjoy this and there will not be any left for the dog. A fine dish for company can be prepared by your mothers or sisters before you leave home. Peel potatoes, slice thin, lay on a cloth to take out all moisture, then fry in hot lard, salt and cook. When cold they can be packed in boxes and if each boy had a box of these potato chips they could always have something ready to eat. If you have canned peas or corn, turn peas or corn into your frying pan, add a piece of butter and a little condensed milk, a little pepper and salt, and as soon as it is hot it is ready to serve. Don't forget your long-handled frying pan, open kettle, tin cups, knives, forks, spoons, plates, spoons, a box of flour and a bottle or two of pickles; also a bottle of vinegar.

Wishing you every success in your cooking.
Mrs. W. B. McPHERSON.

—THOMAS A. EDISON'S highest development of his own instrument, the

Edison Phonograph

Musically—the Amberola has the truest, surest, smoothest tone, the most lifelike reproduction. Exactly the right volume of sound for the home. It has the sapphire reproducing point, which is permanent—no changing needles. It renders all compositions completely, without cutting or hurrying, on Edison Amberol (four-and-one-half minute) Records—and all short selections on Edison (two-minute) Records, as well.

Artistically—a masterpiece of the cabinet maker's art, as beautiful to look at as it is wonderful to hear. You have your choice of four finishes, Cinnamon, Walnut, Mahogany, Golden Oak and Mission Oak.

Mechanically—perfect. The silent motor will play five Amberol Records, each four-and-one-half minutes long without rewinding.

There are various other styles of Edison Phonographs at almost any price you wish to pay—and each offers definite Edison advantages. But the Amberola is the greatest of all. Hear it today.

There are Edison dealers everywhere. Go to the nearest and hear the Edison Phonograph play both the Amberol and Edison Standard Records. Get complete catalogues from your dealer or from Edison Phonograph Co., 100 Lakeside Avenue, Orange, N. J., U. S. A.

FOREST RESERVE AND LIVE STOCK INDUSTRY

The Forest Reserve recently created on the east slope of the Rocky Mountains, from the International Boundary north to beyond the Athabasca River, bears an important relation to the live stock industry of the Western Alberta. A great number of cattle and horses find summer range within the boundaries of this reserve, particularly in that portion lying south of the main line of the C.P.R. Up to the present time, this use of the public range has been entirely unregulated, and while men who are familiar with the situation, state that over-grazing has not yet occurred, except, perhaps, in isolated localities, yet there is a steadily growing tendency to increase the number of stock using the ranges within the Forest Reserve, not only on the part of the adjacent ranch holders but more particularly on the part of the stockmen living at some distance from the mountains, and of stock owners who purchase cattle simply for speculation, ranging them for a season on the rich grasses of the mountains, feeding over winter on the grain hay of the adjacent foothills, and making a profitable sale in the spring.

It is felt both by the Forestry officials, who have charge of the administration of the Forest Reserve, and by the local ranch owners that some sort of governmental control of the grazing of stock within the Forest Reserve is desirable. The objects of this control are:

1. The protection and conservation of the grazing resources of the Forest Reserve.
2. The protection of the live stock industry and its establishment on a permanent basis through proper care and improvement of grazing lands.
3. The protection of the settler, and of those whose long use of the range entitles them to a preference in such use, from unfair competition in this use.

To accomplish this object, the Department has in view the establishment of a system of classification of range users, according to their place of residence, and the use of which they have previously made of the range, and the issuing of permits to such users of the range, charges for the same, and a nominal fee, which shall reimburse the government for the expense of administration and assist in the protection of the range and its further improvement. The details of this system of permits have not as yet been worked out, and before promulgating the grazing regulations in their entirety it is the desire of the Forestry officials to secure the co-operation and advice of the stock owners who have heretofore made use of the range within the Forest Reserves. It is felt that the advantages of the permit system, under reasonable government restrictions, will be apparent on due consideration of the live stock industry in western Alberta is certain to assume large proportions, and that within a very few years, vast quantities of winter feed are available in the lower foothills and adjacent prairies. The number of stock which may be handled at a profit is governed entirely by the capacity of the summer range within the Forest Reserve. The carrying capacity of these ranges is naturally limited. If stocked beyond this limit, or if the stock on the range is improperly handled, the range is depleted, and the natural forage decreases in quantity and value, gradually the grasses and other forage plants weaken, and the less resistant disappear, the range assumes a starved, unhealthy appearance, and its carrying capacity shrinks alarmingly. Such a range is said to be overgrazed, and a badly overgrazed range requires much time and careful treatment before it can again be brought back to normal conditions. As stated above, over-grazing has not yet occurred within the Rocky Mountain Reserve, except in isolated localities. Experience in the States, under similar conditions, has shown, however, that unregulated use of the public range inevitably leads to over-grazing and consequent decrease in the carrying capacity of the range, to the great injury of the interests dependent on this range. This over-grazing does not, as a rule, result from the grazing of stock owned by the settlers living adjacent to the Reserve, who are dependent on the use of the public range for their livelihood. As a general rule, such users are careful to restrict the number of their stock to such an amount as will secure the full use of the range without danger of depletion. Where, however, the use of the range is unregulated and under no sort of government supervision such users have absolutely no protection in their ranges. They are liable at any time to find their range covered by the stock of some owner, living many miles distant from the reserve, or even by stock bought solely for speculation, and run on the range only for a single season with absolutely no thought of its preservation. This condition has not yet become acute in Western Alberta, but that it is imminent is evident to all who have given thought to the tendencies of the live stock industry of the province.

In establishing the Rocky Mountain Forest Reserve, the Government had in view not only the preservation of the timber of the mountains from the ravages of fire and the conservation of the water which is so vitally necessary to the welfare of the irrigation and power interests, but also the placing of suitable restrictions on the use of these lands compatible with maintaining them in a condition of constant productivity.

The persons most vitally interested in this matter are the ranch owners who have used the mountain ranges for years and the settlers along the eastern border of the Reserve, who are dependent on these ranges for summer feed for their stock. The Forestry Officials at Calgary wish to present this matter to the consideration of such users of the Reserve, and have recommended that committees of stock owners, representing the Forest Reserve users in each grazing district be recognized by the Department as Advisory Boards, who shall be consulted by the Forestry officials in regard to proposed regulations, and whose advice shall be followed whenever it represents the wishes of the majority of the stock owners of the region and is not detrimental to the interests of the Forest Reserve.

The grazing districts within the reserve, which should be thus represented, are as follows: Grazing district No. 1.—From the International Boundary north to the Crow's Nest Pass. Grazing district No. 2.—From the Crow's Nest Pass north to the divide between the Highwood and the Old Man rivers, or, approximately, to the boundary between townships 14 and 15.

Grazing district No. 3.—From the north boundary of District No. 2 to the line between townships 18 and 19.

Grazing district No. 4.—From the north boundary of District No. 3 to the Stony Indian Reserve.

Grazing district No. 5.—From the Stony Indian Reserve to the Clearwater river.

Grazing district No. 6.—From the Clearwater river to the Saskatchewan river. In order that this matter may be placed upon a definite basis, the stockmen within the above described districts are requested to select representatives who shall constitute the Advisory Board for that district, and shall be empowered to act for the entire body of stock owners making use of the public range within the Forest Reserve of the district. These Advisory boards should consist of either three or five members, and when elected should notify the District Inspector of the Dominion Forest Reserves at Calgary, who will arrange for a conference at an early date. Such notices should be filed with the District Inspector not later than June 1, 1912. Furthermore, the District Inspector would be pleased to hear from any users of open range land within the Forest Reserve, who may have suggestions to make in regard to the proposed regulations, and is desirous of getting in touch with as many users of the Forest Reserve grazing lands as possible, either through correspondence or by personal conference.

RURAL SCHOOLS AND AGRICULTURE

It may be contended that a consolidated rural school will do no more than to prevent individual school work in educating boys and girls for the farm. If the consolidated school did no more than the present system does in the curriculum provided then this contention would hold good. But it can be made to do a great deal more. One of the arguments advanced against the teaching of agriculture in rural schools is that there are no teachers qualified to teach it. If we have to wait until the teachers are required to man the public schools in the country are qualified, the millennium will be here before we get started. The consolidated school will help out in this way; by combining half a dozen schools into one well equipped consolidated school, not so many teachers qualified to teach agriculture would be required to teach the pupils in the country. One qualified teacher in each consolidated school would be sufficient, and that one teacher could specialize in agriculture, including nature study, and, with an acre or two of ground, interest the pupils in plant life and the beauties of rural life in a practical and effective way. The rural school situation, in this country is one of the big problems of the day, and big things and big men with big ideas are necessary to solve it properly. To go along as we have been doing is suicidal in so far as retaining the people, young and old, on the land.—Canadian Farmer.

CHILDREN'S PROTECTIVE ACT

An amendment to the Children's Protection Act provides for the licensing of all vendors of newspapers, small wares, and of bootblacks. The amendment requires that each vendor of newspapers shall grant a license to any child whose age does not exceed twelve years, nor to any female child. The municipality is not allowed to grant a license to any child under the apparent age of fourteen years, unless such child shall present authority in writing from its parent or guardian.

Metal badges should be issued bearing the number of the license issued, and it becomes the duty of police officers of the city, or in cases where a special children's officer is employed, of that particular officer, to see that the news vendors wear their badges upon a conspicuous place on their clothing.

Provision is made whereby justices of the peace or magistrates may impose a fine, not exceeding $5.00 and costs, for anyone who violates the conditions of the Act.

This is a piece of much needed legislation, and the effect in Alberta should be most marked in the course of the next six months. The city of Ottawa has a by-law which was introduced in January, 1910. The effect of the by-law is most satisfactory according to the chief of police in that city. Cleveland, Ohio, has licensed its news vendors for the last fifteen years, and opinions, which were solicited from all over the Dominion, brings the unanimous verdict that an act requiring municipalities to pass such by-laws could be for the best interests of the children all round, as it would have a tendency to prevent truancy, and it would require good behavior on the part of the news vendors, bootblacks, etc. as the fear of having the badge cancelled, as well as the fine, would bring them to a higher point than is possible under the loose system that is usually in vogue in the cities in Western Canada.

The Province of Manitoba is suing all the badges from the provincial office of the Superintendent of neglected children, the badges merely being sent to the police of the various municipalities to be distributed, and a record in turn being sent in to the office of the superintendent. This centralizes the work, but does not relieve the municipality of any responsibility in enforcing the act.

"My little son had a very severe cold. I was recommended to try Chamberlain's Cough Remedy, and before a small bottle was used he was as well as ever," writes Mrs. H. Silks, 29 Dowling St., Sydney, Australia. This remedy is for sale by all dealers.

BENTLEY NOTES

The Royal Bank of Canada
BENTLEY, ALBERTA
Sub-branch to Lacombe
Office hours 10 a.m. to 3 p.m.
EDWARD J. OUIK, Manager

Plowing started in several places last week and this week. All of the farmers will get busy. More good news in regard to the electric railway was received this week, and arrangements are being made to start work on same this spring. More will be said later.

Mr. A. Bullock is building a residence between the McPherson Store and the Drug Store, the front of which will be used for a millinery store by Mrs. Bullock. Mrs. Bullock has some stock in now, and more on the way. She will have a spring opening when the building is completed.

Messrs. Putland & Thorp wish to announce to their customers that their store will be closed on Friday, April 5th, (Good Friday). The Post office, however, will be open from 11:30 a.m. till 1 p.m.

The Bentley Amateur Dramatic Society is putting on the several plays advertised on Thursday and Friday nights of this week. Reserved seats may be secured by letter or phone for Thursday night's performance from F. W. Thorp, and for Friday night's from Jas. McPherson.

The Bentley Amateur Dramatic Society is giving a matinee on Friday afternoon at three o'clock at the hall when all children will be admitted free. Come out and bring the little ones for a holiday treat.

James P. McPherson is putting on a dance to follow Friday night's performance at the hall.

Three buildings are now under construction in Bentley, and all will be occupied as dwellings as soon as completed. This speaks well for our little hamlet at this time of the year.

The Anglican Church Easter services will be as follows:
Bentley 11 a.m.
Lockhart 3:30 p.m.
Rimbey 7:30 p.m.
There will be a service on Good Friday at 11 a.m. at Rimbey and at 8 p.m. at Bentley.

WITTENBERG

Mr. Cumberland and family, from Ontario are moving to their farm south of Wittenburg this week.

Frank Hancher was helping P. S. Donham to move on the latter's homestead the other day. Mr. Donham is thinking of putting a grist mill on the bank of Spring Creek.

Mr. Geo. Stevenson and friends, of Bentley, attended the Lee sale, March 25. Three other stock men from Calgary were also in attendance.

The wood sawyers are doing a good business around here, and one would suggest that some one buy a saw and run a position.

Mrs. Orson Archer and daughter were shopping in Gibby Wednesday. They report the roads in bad shape.

Last Monday as Orie Archer and family were driving along the road, their team became frightened and started to run; the bit broke, and the horses had it all their own way for a little while. Although no one was hurt it was a very narrow escape.

Mr. S. H. Clifford will start for southern Alberta with his railroad outfit about April 5th. We understand a good many around here are going south for the summer.

What proved to be the most successful sale ever held in this locality, took place at Lee's ranch the other day. The weather was ideal, and the crowd large. Auctioneer G. N. Taylor conducted things with an iron hand, and proved that long experience is what counts in the sale ring. The bidding started at fever heat, and the third cow sold for $74.50. Hats went into the air and excitement at the ring side was intense, but the auctioneer was equal to the occasion, and swung the hammer with great skill. A bunch of six calves three months old brought $100 per head. The horses all sold exceptionally high, and the mules passed the high water mark. The big crowd did justice to a good lunch, and all the latest jokes given by the auctioneer and took their departure at about 1:30 p.m. If you are thinking of having a sale just drop G. N. Taylor a line to his address at Wittenburg and he will do the rest.

W. F. PUFFER SELLS OUT
After a continuous business career of seventeen years in Lacombe, W. F. Puffer, M.P.P., proprietor of the Pioneer Meat Market, this week disposed of his interests to Messrs. Cole & Slater, and will, in future, devote his whole time to the buying and shipping of cattle.

The new proprietors of the Pioneer meat market are well known in Lacombe, Mr. Cole having acted in the capacity of local manager for the past ten years, and Mr. Slater has been out in the establishment for several years.

FAIRVIEW

The surprise party held at Eddy Thomas' last Thursday night was a very enjoyable event. The whole affair was kept so quiet that Eddy was certainly surprised.

A building bee was held at Joe Pinnett's last Tuesday, and resulted in the erection of a new house and preparations for a new barn were also made. "Captain Dick" was reproduced to a good crowd at the school house on Saturday March 23rd. Quite a number from town attended. A collection was made and was handed over to the treasurer for the baseball team.

Mr. Podersky is returning to Edmonton this week with another team. He has bought a house and lot in that city and is now getting it ready for occupation.

Mr. Sorell sold his farm last week and will be leaving this vicinity in a few days. Spring work has started at last. A farmer near here died of some kind last week, and we hear one farmer plowed some. Beat this if you can!

E. Drader Loses Arm

While oiling his plow a day or two ago, Ernest Drader, who operates a saw mill west of town, had the misfortune to have his right hand drawn into the knives, with the result that the member was frightfully mangled. He was taken to the Lacombe hospital, where it was found necessary to amputate the arm about six inches above the wrist. The injured man has the sincere sympathy of the citizens of Lacombe, this tract where he is well and favorably known. He is progressing favorably under medical care.

Jim Fax Coming

The well known fun makers, Jim Fax and Company, will play in Lacombe for one night, Wednesday, April 10. Those who have seen Fax before will be sure to see him this time, and those who have never had the pleasure of listening to his funny jokes should make a special effort to be at the Comet on Wednesday evening next. Fax has a reputation as an entertainer par excellence on both sides of the line, and Manager Shilleto is providing a treat for his patrons by engaging him.

PRESBYTERIAN STUDENT APPOINTMENTS

Following is a list of the students who have received appointments under the Home Mission Committee for the summer months. These appointments were ratified last week by the Home Mission Committee in Toronto.

W. R. Walkinshaw, Rev. W. H. Bates, H. R. Kay, W. A. Osborne, E. N. Ballentyne, Rev. R. Hamilton.

Mr. M. S. Kerr, who was last summer stationed at Meadowsbrook, has received an appointment in Vancouver Island, under the presbytery of Victoria, and will proceed thither at the close of the present college session.

If you are looking for cheap houses and lots look over Bentley's add.

PAINFUL ACCIDENT

Charles Lindburg, of Springdale, near Ponoka, was the victim of a serious accident on Friday last. He was at work cutting wood when a log he was raising fell to the ground striking the axe near the end of the handle. The axe was thrown through the air with much force and struck Lindburg full in the mouth, knocking out several of his teeth and fracturing his upper jaw. He was taken to the Lacombe hospital, and although suffering considerably is doing well.

Sherwin-William's Flaxseed is particularly valuable in cleaning carpets and rugs. It not only removes dirt and grease spots, but also revives the original fresh appearance of the goods. Try a can Morrison & Johnston.
